Alex Brown made a motion to approve adding a meeting on November 8, 2012. Lexi Evans seconded the motion. All Board members were in favor of adding a meeting on November 8, 2012 to discuss the topics on the proposed agenda.

IV. Rockwell Hall Rooms 08 and 20: Ernie MacQuiddy will join us to discuss the UFFAB funding for Rockwell 08 and 20 and why the money has not been expended. UFFAB will have to decide whether or not to take their funding back.

Ernie MacQuiddy of the College of Business came to the Board with an explanation of why the money for the basement study corals has not been used yet. He explained that the College has determined that they need another classroom and will be using the basement for this space. The College of Business graduate program is growing, distance education is growing, and the college needs more space for these growing programs. Room 20, which was one of the proposed study corals, will now be a distance studio classroom. The College is hiring an architect to design the basement into a high-class classroom and student space. Room 8 will also no longer be a student study space with this decision to renovate the entire basement. The College of Business has decided to return the money back to UFFAB due to not being in the position to use it immediately and with the changes that will be happening to the spaces. The College of Business wanted to thank the Board for the money and hopes that they will continue to have a great relationship with UFFAB. The College of Business knows there are other projects that have been brought to UFFAB this year that are ready to use the money and hope it can be deployed elsewhere.
